OVERVIEW OF THYMOS

Thymos is an active asset manager which uses a dynamic investment process based on fundamental data and research philosophy.

Thymos was established in 2021. The investment team has worked together for over 10 years and builds investment portfolios through blending the macroeconomic modelling with quantitative bottom-up company analysis. Through a dynamic process, Thymos aims to always be in the right investments at the right time to deliver above benchmark returns after fees.

INVESTMENT TEAM

Thymos is a boutique Australian fund manager founded by Adnan Kucukalic and Nick Selvaratnam and majority owned by the founders. Adnan and Nick worked together at Credit Suisse during the late 90s and have worked closely since 2005.

OTHER PROFESSIONALS AND CONSULTANTS

The Manager may utilise a range of other professionals and consultants from time to time for investment research, strategic advice or to otherwise discharge its obligations as the Manager of the Fund.

INVESTMENT PROCESS

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the Fund is to give investors broad exposure to global equities in developed markets and to generate above-Benchmark returns after fees.

PHILOSOPHY

Thymos believes that an unhedged diversified portfolio of global equities will deliver strong returns and diversification benefits to investors.

We believe that a static investment process with constant bias to value, growth and other themes, is prone to excessive volatility and prolonged periods of sub optimal returns. Thymos runs a dynamic investment process, shifting between investment styles and themes based on valuation and macro environment dynamics as explained below.

PROCESS

The Thymos process consists of 3 stages. First, we select the universe of securities and score these securities based on stock specific data. Next, we run macro models that determine how we blend the stock scores. Lastly, from the scored universe we construct a portfolio by applying risk parameters. Portfolio review and oversight occurs to ensure that the models and the data driving them, are performing as designed.

UNIVERSE AND SCORING

There are well over 50,000 listed securities in the world. From that list, we select securities from global developed markets based on size (usually by market capitalisation), liquidity and data quality criteria. We end up with our Investible Universe of around 4,000 securities.

We then clean the data to ensure quality and calculate our proprietary scores for momentum, value, quality, and size factors. While much of the data we use is generally available, our scores are calculated in a way that they best capture characteristics we think work with our macro models.

Factors are in essence a stock's basic descriptors or characteristics. For example, a stock with a low PE and high Dividend Yield is seen as a "value" stock and has a high value factor score. The stock with strong share price performance and earnings upgrades is described as a "momentum" stock and scores high on momentum factor. The quality factor is based on growth and return metrics including return on equity, consistency of earnings and earnings growth. We use market capitalisation of a stock to determine its size factor. The momentum, value, quality and size factors use key data metrics, usually based on earnings, dividends, return on investment, growth and capitalisation.

Ordinarily a value investor would focus on the value score, a growth fund would focus on a mix of momentum and quality, a quantitative investor may blend momentum and value. Most funds have a static exposure to factors that capture their investment philosophy.

Thymos on the other hand, runs macro models to come up with its strategic blend of factors for the current macro environment.

In carrying out its investment strategy and implementing its macro models, there are certain activities that the Manager does not undertake, in particular:

- the Manager does not conduct on site visits for a company whose securities it may acquire for the Fund;
- the Manager does not carry out fundamental research on a company whose securities it may acquire for the Fund, for example it does not meet with management or directors;
- the Manager will not implement a cash safe position, but instead will aim to have a position of the Fund being fully invested (that is to hold only securities) for the Fund; and
- the Manager does not engage in any activist investment activities (political or otherwise).

MACRO MODELS AND FACTOR BLENDING

Thymos' macro models utilise a measure of what investors generally accept to be true.

The models gather data (such as data for returns, volatility, Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth, money supply, interest rates) and process it (detrending, smoothing, combining) for the purpose of generating an output such as leading indicator of excess liquidity.

For example, if there is too much money chasing too few goods and services, we would expect to see either consumer price inflation, asset price inflation or future growth. These developments tend to disproportionately benefit investment styles with more leverage to the cycle such as value and small caps. Another scenario is when the world becomes full of uncertainty because of financial, policy or geopolitical shocks. High uncertainty tends to signal a turning point in the cycle, which often wrong-foots trend-following strategies like momentum.

By taking the current macro valuation and outlook indicators, we use a different blend of value, quality, growth and size each time. Since our macro models are driven by the data captured, our blend changes with the speed and magnitude of the macro environment.

Here is a simplified example of our leading indicator model, based on excess liquidity. Excess liquidity is measured by way of money supply relative to the size of the economy. If money supply is growing more quickly (slowly) than economic activity, we would expect future activity growth to pick up (slow). The way we use the leading indicator in our factor blending and timing, is to say that if the expansion phase is expected to continue based on the degree of excess liquidity in the system, we can afford to put our trust in value and momentum factors. After all, momentum is a trend-following strategy that works best when yesterday's pattern of growth is likely to be repeated tomorrow. And value is an anchoring strategy that presumes earnings, dividends and book values anchor prices rather than the other way around. In an expansion phase, this is a safe assumption - but in a contraction phase, there is deleveraging pressure that can cause asset prices to drive fundamentals. If indeed liquidity becomes insufficient to support even today's pace of economic growth, we have a contrarian and bearish signal which favours quality.

PORTFOLIO CONSTRUCTION

We start with our Investible Universe of around 4000 securities, each with a single score based on value, momentum, quality and size factors, blended based on our macro models. We further restrict our Investible Universe by discarding the smallest 5% of companies and as a result increase the liquidity of the portfolio.

We then construct a portfolio with usually 250-350 securities. We usually limit stock active weights (portfolio vs. benchmark weight) to 2% but may temporarily exceed that limit due to market movement or trading opportunities. We control the turnover to prevent excessive trading by the Fund for small gains in scores.

The resulting portfolio is diversified across sectors and regions, predominantly exposed to large global securities and factors we believe will do well in the macro economic environment we find ourselves in. The portfolio construction information on page 5 provides an overview of the diversification approach for the Fund.

The Fund does not generally aim to hold cash except at the times of securities trading, inflows and outflows, which are temporary in nature.

We do not ordinarily use derivatives. But we may do that on occasion to mitigate the cash drag caused by fund inflows or outflows. If we have a strong conviction that there is a significant risk of market pullback based on our macro models, we may use derivatives to protect the Fund assets.

Given the nature of the fund, there is no consideration given to ESG (Environmental, Social and Governance) issues.

LEVERAGE POLICY

The Trustee is permitted to borrow on behalf of the Fund.

The Trustee does not intend to use borrowings or any other form of leverage to increase the scale of the Portfolio.

If the Trustee were to use borrowings or another form of leverage the value of the Portfolio may be extended by the leverage. Investors should note that any borrowings or other leverage by the Fund will remain repayable by the Fund regardless of the performance of the Portfolio.

VALUATION POLICY

The Portfolio's NAV will be calculated at least monthly using a framework for the valuation of financial instruments that is in accordance with the Fund Constitution and consistent with current industry practice.

The assets of the Fund will be valued using market accepted practices to accurately and independently price all securities and other assets within the Portfolio from time to time. The value of the Portfolio shall be determined by aggregating the value of each investment forming part of or comprised in the Portfolio and each investment shall be valued in accordance with the following methodology:

- cash (including income) – the amount of such cash (in Australian dollars);
- securities listed or traded on a financial market – the market value of the security;
- other investments – the value of that investment determined in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards.

The Trustee may request that the value of an investment be determined by a duly qualified valuer independent of the Trustee, having regard to the particular type or types of investment which are the subject of the valuation.

CUSTODIAN

The assets of the Fund will be held by the Trustee.

The Trustee may also determine that a third-party custodian holds the assets of the Fund.

RISK MANAGEMENT PHILOSOPHY AND APPROACH

The Manager, on behalf of the Trustee, will be primarily responsible for implementing and managing the investment strategy. The Trustee considers investment risk to be the risk of permanent loss of capital. The Manager's policies and controls are designed to be robust and relevant to the Fund's investment objectives and strategy.

The Manager will maintain appropriate portfolio risk controls to monitor a variety of risk factors.

CHANGES TO INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The investment strategy will be implemented by the Manager, on behalf of the Trustee, upon the launch of the Fund.

While no material changes to the investment strategy are presently contemplated, if there are changes, the Manager, with the consent of the Trustee, may make changes to the investment strategy. The Trustee will notify Unitholders of any material changes to the Fund's investment strategy.

FUND DETAILS

UNIT VALUE AND APPLICATION PRICE

For the purposes of applications and redemptions, the Unit value is calculated monthly as at the last day of the calendar month. Pursuant to the Constitution, the application price for a Unit is the NAV of the Fund plus the Buy/Sell spread divided by the number of Units on issue. The Constitution allows the Trustee to adjust the Unit price to take account of the costs of buying and selling assets to meet application and redemptions requests. This is referred to as the Buy/Sell spread. The Trustee has determined to apply a Buy spread of +0.25% to all applications and a Sell spread of -0.25% to all redemptions in order to spread these costs fairly between Unitholders. The application price is adjusted up, and the redemption price is adjusted down, to reflect the Buy/Sell spread.

REDEMPTIONS AND REDEMPTION PRICE

Unitholders wishing to redeem all or part of their Units should complete and send the Redemption Request Form to the Registrar at least 3 Business Days prior to the end of the month. Redemption proceeds are generally paid around the 10th business day of the month following receipt of the redemption request. We may extend this period or redeem a lesser amount than requested in certain unusual circumstances (for example due to circumstances outside our control such as restricted or suspended trading in the market for assets of the Fund). The trust deed for the Fund (called the Constitution) sets out the full circumstances in which Trustee can delay access to your monies. The redemption price is the NAV less the Sell spread divided by the number of Units on issue at the end of a calendar month. Unitholders should note that the NAV is calculated on market prices which are subject to fluctuation.

DISTRIBUTIONS

The Fund intends to distribute all net realised gains and income annually as at 30 June. Income distributions are usually reinvested at the end of each financial year (June), but you can tell us if you do not want to automatically reinvest distributions or advise us in writing anytime if you would like us to pay them to your nominated account. Any distributions reinvested are reinvested at the ex-distribution unit price. No buy spread is applied to a distribution reinvestment.

Distributions are not guaranteed. Thymos' investment focus means that often investment returns are in the form of unrealised gains as well as dividends and distributions. For example, the Fund may report a high annual return, but because the returns comprise unrealised gains, the distribution may be low or there may not be a distribution. In some situations, distributions may be paid at other times. Distributions are usually paid within 14 days after year end.

Your distribution is calculated by dividing the distributable income of the Fund by the number of units on issue at the end of the distribution period. This gives a distributable income amount per unit. Your distribution entitlement is then determined by multiplying the number of units you hold by the distributable income amount per unit.

The issue price of Units arising from a distribution will be the ex-distribution Unit price as calculated on 30 June each year in which a distribution was declared.

If you invest during a distribution period, you may be eligible for a distribution. The distributions you receive are generally assessable income.

FEES AND EXPENSES

BASE FEE

Thymos is entitled to a management fee of 1% pa plus GST of the NAV of the Fund (Management Fee). The Management Fee is calculated and accrued monthly and is paid monthly in arrears from the Fund.

PERFORMANCE FEE

In addition to the Management Fee, the Manager is entitled to a performance fee of 15% plus GST of the amount that the Fund outperforms the Benchmark after deduction of the Management Fees and expenses (Performance Fee) at the end of each calendar quarter. Here is an example calculation:

	Performance Period Start	Performance Period End	Performance Period Return
NAV (A$)	1.2000	1.2600	5.00%
MSCI World Index (A$)			3.00%
Outperformance after fees			2.00%
Performance fee at 15% plus GST		0.33%	< 2% * 15% + 10%GST
Performance fee		0.0042	< 0.33% * 1.2600
NAV after performance fee		1.2558	< 1.2600 - 0.0042
Fund total return		4.65%
Fund outperformance		1.65%

The Performance Period for Performance Fee calculation is a calendar quarter ending on 31 March, 30 June, 30 September and 31 December and is based on the NAV at the end of each calendar quarter. The Performance Fee is paid at the end of the Performance Period if the Fund meets the following two conditions:

1. the Fund outperforms the Benchmark in the Performance Period and any underperformance from prior performance periods (Deficit) is made up; and
2. the Fund return is positive. If the Fund has recorded a negative return while outperforming the Benchmark, the Performance Fee will be accumulated as outperformance from prior periods (Surplus).

Example 1: The Benchmark returns 5% in the Performance Period and the Fund returns 10% (after deduction of Management Fees and expenses but before performance fees). NAV of the Fund was $50,000 and there was no Surplus or Deficit. The Performance Fee for that Performance Period would be $375 (calculated as $50,000 x [10% - 5%] x 15%) plus GST.

Example 2: The Benchmark returns 5% in the Performance Period and the Fund returns 10% (after deduction of Management Fees and expenses but before performance fees). NAV of the Fund was $50,000 and there was $100 Performance Fee Deficit. The Performance Fee for that Performance Period would be $375 (calculated as $50,000 x [10% - 5%] x 15%) plus GST. The Performance Fee paid is $275 ($375 - $100), while Deficit is reduced to zero.

Example 3: The Benchmark returns -10% in the Performance Period and the Fund returns -5% (after deduction of Management Fees and expenses but before performance fees). NAV of the Fund was $50,000 and there was no Surplus or Deficit. The Performance Fee for that Performance Period would be $375 (calculated as  $$50,000 \times [(-5\%) - (-10\%)] \times 15\%$ ) plus GST. The Performance Fee is not paid in the period but added as Surplus to be paid later when the Fund records positive returns.

If a Unit holder redeems units before the end of a Performance Period, the accrued Performance Fee referable to that Performance Period will be paid to Thymos including any accumulated Surplus. To ensure that the proportionality between any Deficit the value of the Fund remains consistent where a redemption occurs, at a time when the Fund has a Deficit, the proportion of the Fund's gross asset value that the redemption represents will generally reduce the Deficit. For example, if the Fund has a Deficit of 1%, and a redemption is made from the Fund that represents 10% of the gross value of the Fund, then the Deficit is reduced by 10% (leaving a residual Deficit of 0.90%). Where no Performance Fee has been payable for 2 consecutive years, any Deficit may be reset to zero at the end of the relevant Performance Period. Thymos may rebate part or all of the Performance Fee that it receives to one or more Unit holders at its discretion. Performance Fees (if any) are paid quarterly in arrears from the Fund.

Note, a performance fee (if any) is calculated and accrued in the unit price each month based on the relevant end of month NAV.

EXPENSES

Thymos is entitled to recover from the Fund its expenses which include, but are not limited to, costs associated with the establishment of the Fund, administration fees, custodian fees, trustee fees, registry fees, preparation of marketing material and disclosure documents, Unitholders' meetings, audit fees and government duties and taxes, tax advice fees, paid independent research and consultancies relating to the Fund.

Thymos has determined to cap the ordinary expense reimbursement at 0.30% pa plus GST based on the NAV of the Fund. Any excess ordinary expenses above the cap will be paid for by Thymos. If Thymos does not pay these fees, then under the Constitution the Trustee is entitled to, and will, collect these fees from the assets of the Fund.

While ordinary expenses are capped, we reserve the right to recover abnormal expenses from the Fund which may include (without limitation) costs of litigation to protect Unitholders' rights, costs of defending claims in relation to the Fund, Unitholder meetings and termination and wind up costs.

TRANSACTION COSTS

Transaction costs are fees and charges resulting from buying and selling securities. These can include for example brokerage and settlement costs.

Transactional costs are payable from the Fund and may vary from over time. These costs are in addition to the other fees and expenses outlined in this section and do not form part of the ordinary expense cap.

Thymos estimates the annual transactional costs to be approximately 0.3% to 0.9% of the NAV of the Fund. For example, for every $100,000 of asset value of the Fund, it is estimated the Fund will incur transaction costs between $300 and $900 per annum.

The fund trades as a result of changes in data that drives our investment process. The more the data changes, the more we trade to achieve our target portfolio positions.

WAIVER OR DEFERRAL OF FEES

The Trustee or the Investment Manager may, in their discretion, accept lower fees and expenses than they are entitled to receive, or may defer or waive payment of those fees and expenses for any time. If payment is deferred, then the fee will accrue until paid.

RISKS

Before making a decision on whether to apply for any Units under the Offer, you are urged to carefully consider the risks described in this Section and consult with your professional adviser for assistance in determining the risks of investing in the Fund and whether it is suited to your needs and circumstances.

There are general risks associated with owning securities in public companies and the price of the security can go down due to a range of factors. These factors include Australian and worldwide economic and political stability, performance of the financial markets, interest rates, foreign exchange and taxation.

The risks associated with investing in the Fund are similar to those of investing in any diversified global equities portfolios. Following are some of the risks worth highlighting and not an exhaustive list:

Specific risks associated with the Fund
Investment strategy	The portfolio will include a mix of companies representing many different industry sectors, economies and countries. The portfolio management investment strategy rules may not result in the desired outcome or achieve the desired exposure. There can be no assurance that these strategies will be successful and a Unitholder may lose all or a substantial proportion of their investment in the Fund. The Trustee may employ additional strategies or change strategies for the Fund following an assessment of market and other conditions and investment opportunities available to the Fund. The Fund may not be able to execute on its intended investment strategy due to the unavailability of assets, which could adversely affect the investment composition of the Fund and Fund returns.
Model risk	The Fund uses many financial models as a part of the investment process. While those models are proven in recent market conditions, there may be market conditions where they don't perform as expected. There may be new regulatory rulings or new ways of managing economies, that are not necessarily founded on a market based system. The investment model may not work in materially different regimes and would need significant adjustments. The investment model cannot predict exogenous events, such as COVID-19. Even when conservative positions are maintained within the investment portfolio, results may not be as expected and may not result in the desired outcome. Your investment in the Fund may increase or decrease as a result.

	The Fund investment strategy relies on analytics and data from third party providers and there is a risk that the data and information, and assumption that base information is accurate, is incorrect which may adversely impact the Fund.
Portfolio Concentration risk	From time to time, securities that rate highly in terms of their exposure to the Funds' strategy and objective may be more heavily concentrated in particular countries or industries (broadly or by sector) due to characteristics at the particular time. This may give rise to a concentrated exposure to a company, country or industry (broadly or by sector).
Fund risk	Investing in a managed investment scheme carries with it the risks of that investment vehicle including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the fees and costs for a fund or class of units in a fund could change;</li> <li>• the Fund may give different results than investing directly in the underlying securities because of tax or other consequences;</li> <li>• the Trustee or Manager could be replaced; or</li> <li>• the Fund could terminate</li> </ul>
Spread risk	Application and redemption transactions are subject to variations in the applicable buy/sell spread. The buy/sell spread can be varied at the Trustee's discretion depending on, for example, market liquidity conditions or the total amount of cash received in applications or redemptions for Units on any particular day.
Operational risk	The Fund is subject to a number of operational risks including in relation to the administration and reporting of the Fund and the possibility that errors are made in the provision of services to the Fund. Adverse impacts may arise internally through human error, technology or infrastructure changes, or through external events such as third party failures or crisis events. The failure of a service provider to adequately administer or report accurately in relation to the Fund or its investments may adversely impact the operations or performance of the Fund. Circumstances beyond the Trustee or Manager's reasonable control may also arise which could prevent the Fund being managed in accordance with the investment strategy and as otherwise contemplated by this Information Memorandum. Examples of these circumstances include pandemic, strikes, industrial disputes, fires or other catastrophes, war, civil disturbance, terrorist acts, governmental pre-emption in connection with a state of emergency and epidemics.

General risks associated with the Fund
Trustee, Manager and Key personnel risk	The operation of the Fund and the Fund's performance depends on the skills and experience of the Trustee, Manager and the personnel running each. Key personnel may leave the Trustee or the Manager who cannot be replaced and this may adversely affect the Fund.
Technology Risk	The risk that there is an operational failure or loss in connection with the operation of the Fund because of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• a technology failure, including arising from data, software, hardware or telecommunications that could adversely impact fund operations directly or indirectly. For example, investor telecommunications, investor application and redemption processing, trade execution and counterparty transactions may be restricted or not possible for a period of time;</li> <li>• theft of technology, data and intellectual property through a direct intrusion by private parties or foreign actors, including those affiliated with or controlled by state actors; or</li> </ul> technology infrastructure that is unreliable and has slow recoverability or insufficient capacity and where this cannot be readily addressed. There may be a prevalence of ageing infrastructure, systems or applications that are near their end of life in a financial market, including those of the financial market operator and key market participants which could give rise to an increased risk for this occurring.
Cyber Risk	The risk that a cyber attack is attempted or an actual incident occurs in connection with the operation of the Fund, that either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• uses computer technology or networks to commit or facilitate the commission of a crime, such as fraud and forgery (including identity or data theft), or any other unlawful act; or</li> <li>• is directed at computer software or hardware and computer systems or other information technology (including hacking, ransom or denial of services).</li> </ul> A successful cyber attack may result in significant disruption of services or data and privacy breaches. Further, a cyber-attack may seek to recover a ransom in connection with the attack.
Licensing risk	The Trustee is required to hold an AFSL to manage the portfolio. The Manager is an authorised representative of the Trustee. There is a risk that if the agreement is terminated, the Manager will be unable to manage the portfolio.

Market risk	Financial markets frequently move in cycles, with periods of rising prices and falling prices. The value of your investment can be directly or indirectly impacted as a result of the market cycle and an investment in the Fund may as a result decrease or increase.
Asset risk	The prices of assets the Fund invests in, either directly or indirectly (through a holding in another investment vehicle) can rise or fall independently of changes in the broad market. Macroeconomic events may impact on the value and price, such as political pandemic, upheaval, financial crisis and troubles or natural disasters.
Liquidity risk	There will be no secondary (or public) market for Units. Unitholders will generally only be able to dispose of their Units by means of a redemption. The Trustee may not be able to convert some non-cash investments into cash and redemptions may be suspended because of disruptions in a financial market. The Trustee may also have to dispose of investments at below market value to meet the redemption requests.
Trading risk	In certain exceptional circumstances, such as market disruptions, a financial market operator may suspend the trading of securities and therefore the Fund may not be able to buy or sell securities on the financial market. In these circumstances, the Trustee may suspend the application and redemption process.
Currency risk	There is the chance that the value of a foreign investment, measured in Australian dollars, will decrease because of unfavourable changes in currency exchange rates.
Legal, regulatory and tax risk	A government or regulator may introduce legal, regulatory or tax changes, or a court may make a decision regarding the interpretation of the law that affects the value of securities in which the Fund invest, the value of Units or the tax treatment of the Fund.
