Description of Target Market

TMD indicator key

The Consumer Attributes for which the product is likely to be appropriate have been assessed using a red/amber/green rating methodology with appropriate colour coding:

In target market	Potentially in target market	Not considered in target market
------------------	------------------------------	---------------------------------

Instructions

In the tables below, Column 1, Consumer Attributes, indicates a description of the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the class of consumers that are considering this product. Column 2, TMD indicator, indicates whether a consumer meeting the attribute in column 1 is likely to be in the target market for this product.

Generally, a consumer is unlikely to be in the target market for the product if:

- one or more of their Consumer Attributes correspond to a red rating, or
- three or more of their Consumer Attributes correspond to an amber rating.

Investment products and diversification

A consumer (or class of consumer) may intend to hold a product as part of a diversified portfolio (typically with an intended product use of satellite/small allocation or core component). In such circumstances, the product should be assessed against the consumer's attributes for the relevant portion of the portfolio, rather than the consumer's portfolio as a whole. For example, a consumer may seek to construct a conservative portfolio with a satellite/small allocation to growth assets. In this case, it may be likely that a product with a High or Very High risk/return profile is consistent with the consumer's objectives for that allocation notwithstanding that the risk/return profile of the consumer as a whole is Low or Medium. In making this assessment, investors and distributors should consider all features of a product (including its key attributes).

Consumer Attributes	TMD Indicator	Product description including key attributes
Consumer's investment objective
Capital Growth	Not considered in target market	The Fund's primary objective is to ensure preservation of capital as a first order of concern, followed by the provision of stable monthly cash income, and portfolio diversification via exposure to the private debt asset class. It is unlikely that the Fund will generate any capital growth as the objective of the Fund is to provide stable monthly income. While an investment in the Fund could experience capital loss and is higher risk and more volatile than cash or fixed income securities, the Fund is expected to exhibit lower volatility than growth assets in a market downturn.
Capital Preservation	In target market
Capital Guaranteed	Not considered in target market
Income Distribution	In target market

Consumer Attributes	TMD Indicator	Product description including key attributes
Consumer's intended product use (% of Investable Assets)
Solution/Standalone (75-100%)	Not considered in target market	The Fund's investment strategy is to provide stable monthly cash income and portfolio diversification by gaining exposure to the private debt asset class.
Core Component (25-75%)*	Potentially in target market	Therefore, the Fund's portfolio diversification is Low to Medium. Investors should use the Fund as a Satellite / small allocation as part of a balanced investment portfolio.
Satellite/small allocation (<25%)	In target market	*Investors may also use the Fund as a Core Component where the investment generally does not exceed 50% of the investor's Investable Assets.
Consumer's investment timeframe
Short (≤ 2 years)	Potentially in target market	There is no limit on the term investors may invest in the Fund and the Fund is managed with the intention of generating monthly income distributions. Investors remain in the Fund until they request to redeem some or all of their investment under a Limited Withdrawal Offer. Investors should note that the Fund is illiquid and their ability to redeem may be limited in some cases. Please see 'Consumer's need to withdraw money' below.
Medium (2 - 5 years)	In target market
Long (> 5 years)	In target market
Consumer's Risk (ability to bear loss) and Return profile
Low	In target market	The Fund aims to generate returns that are above Reserve Bank of Australia Cash Rate plus 3.5%-5.5% per annum after fees and expenses. However, returns from the Fund are not guaranteed and there are risks involved in the Fund as disclosed in the PDS.
Medium	In target market
High	In target market	Investors may lose some of their money if the underlying borrowers are unable to pay back the loans made to them. The Manager aims to mitigate this risk through diversification of lenders and underlying borrowers, due diligence on lenders and the structuring of debt holder protections within debt facilities and underlying loans. It is expected the Fund may experience an estimated 1 to 2 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 1 to 2) (Low).
Very High	In target market
Consumer's need to withdraw money
Daily	Not considered in target market	Because of the types of assets the Fund will invest in, it is likely that the Fund will be an "Illiquid" fund under the Corporations Act. Certain restrictions apply to withdrawals from Illiquid funds. It is intended that while the Fund is Illiquid, a Withdrawal Offer will be made periodically, with the aim to make monthly Withdrawal Offers. However, the ability of the Fund to satisfy redemption requests will be limited to the cash available within the Fund for redemptions. The terms that apply to Withdrawal Offers will be made available to investors on the Responsible Entity's website.
Weekly	Not considered in target market
Monthly	Potentially in target market
Quarterly	Potentially in target market
Annually or longer	In target market

Definitions

Term	Definition
Consumer's investment objective
Capital Growth	The consumer seeks to invest in a product designed to generate capital return. The consumer prefers exposure to growth assets (such as shares or property) or otherwise seeks an investment return above the current inflation rate.
Capital Preservation	The consumer seeks to invest in a product to reduce volatility and minimise loss in a market down-turn. The consumer prefers exposure to assets that are generally lower in risk and less volatile than growth investments.
Capital Guaranteed	The consumer seeks a guarantee or protection against capital loss whilst still seeking the potential for capital growth (typically gained through a derivative arrangement). The consumer would likely understand the complexities, conditions and risks that are associated with such products.
Income Distribution	The consumer seeks to invest in a product designed to distribute regular and/or tax-effective income. The consumer prefers exposure to income-generating assets (typically, high dividend-yielding equities, fixed income securities and money market instruments).

Term	Definition
Consumer's intended product use (% of Investable Assets)
Solution/Standalone (75-100%)	The consumer intends to hold the investment as either a part or the majority (up to 100%) of their total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with at least High portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Core Component (25-75%)	The consumer intends to hold the investment as a major component, up to 75%, of their total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with at least Medium portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Satellite (<25%)	The consumer intends to hold the investment as a smaller part of their total portfolio, as an indication it would be suitable for up to 25% of the total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer is likely to be comfortable with exposure to a product with Low portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Investable Assets	Those assets that the investor has available for investment, excluding the residential home.
Portfolio diversification (for completing the key product attribute section of consumer's intended product use)
Low	Single asset class, single country, low or moderate holdings of securities - e.g. high conviction Aussie equities.
Medium	1-2 asset classes, single country, broad exposure within asset class, e.g. Aussie equities "All Ords".
High	Highly diversified across either asset classes, countries or investment managers, e.g. Australian multi-manager balanced fund or global multi-asset product (or global equities).
Consumer's intended investment timeframe
Short (≤ 2 years)	The consumer has a short investment timeframe and may wish to redeem within two years.
Medium (2 - 5 years)	The consumer has a medium investment timeframe and is unlikely to redeem within two to five years.
Long (> 5 years)	The consumer has a long investment timeframe and is unlikely to redeem within five years.
Consumer's Risk (ability to bear loss) and Return profile
The Issuer has adopted the Standard Risk Measure (SRM) to calculate the likely number of negative annual returns over a 20 year period, using the guidance and methodology outlined in the Standard Risk Measure Guidance Paper For Trustees . The assessment has been undertaken assuming likely returns after fees and costs but before taxes. SRM is not a complete assessment of risk and potential loss. For example, it does not detail important issues such as the potential size of a negative return or that a positive return could still be less than a consumer requires to meet their investment objectives/needs. Issuers may wish to supplement the SRM methodology by also considering other risk factors.
Low	The consumer is conservative or low risk in nature, seeks to minimise potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear up to 1 negative return over a 20 year period (SRM 1 to 2)) and is comfortable with a low target return profile. Consumer typically prefers defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.

Term	Definition
Medium	The consumer is moderate or medium risk in nature, seeking to minimise potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear up to 4 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 3 to 5)) and comfortable with a moderate target return profile. Consumer typically prefers a balance of growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets and defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.
High	The consumer is higher risk in nature and can accept higher potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear up to 6 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 6)) in order to target a higher target return profile. Consumer typically prefers predominantly growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets with only a smaller or moderate holding in defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.
Very high	The consumer has a more aggressive or very high-risk appetite, seeks to maximise returns and can accept higher potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear 6 or more negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 7)). Consumer typically prefers growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets.
Review triggers and Distributor Reporting
Significant Dealings	Section 994F(6) of the Act requires distributors to notify the Issuer if they become aware of a significant dealing in the Fund that is not consistent with the TMD. Section 994G of the Act requires the Issuer to notify ASIC if it becomes aware of a significant dealing in the Fund that is not consistent with the TMD. Neither the Act nor ASIC defines when a dealing is ‘significant’ and distributors have discretion to apply its ordinary meaning determined having regard to ASIC’s policy in RG 274. The issuer will rely on notifications of significant dealings to monitor and review the Fund, this TMD, and its distribution strategy, and to meet its own obligation to report significant dealings to ASIC. Dealings outside this TMD may be significant because they constitute an individual transaction which has resulted in, or will or is likely to result in, significant detriment to the consumer (or class of consumer). In each case, the distributor should have regard to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the nature and risk profile of the product (which may be indicated by the product’s risk rating or withdrawal timeframes), • the actual or potential harm to a consumer (which may be indicated by the value of the consumer’s investment, their intended product use or their ability to bear loss), and • the nature and extent of the inconsistency of distribution with the TMD (which may be indicated by the number of red or amber ratings attributed to the consumer).
