TARGET MARKET DETERMINATION

10 December 2025

Version 1.1 (Current)

MSQUARED CAPITAL

Introduction

This Target Market Determination (TMD) is required under section 994B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (the Act). This TMD describes the class of consumers that comprises the target market for the financial product and matters relevant to the product's distribution and review (specifically, distribution conditions, review triggers and periods, and reporting requirements). Distributors must take reasonable steps that will, or are reasonably likely to, result in distribution of the product being consistent with the most recent TMD (unless the distribution is excluded conduct).

This document is not a product disclosure statement (PDS) and is not a complete summary of the product features or terms of the product. This document does not take into account any person's individual objectives, financial situation or needs. Persons interested in acquiring this product should carefully read the PDS for the product before making a decision whether to buy this product.

Important terms used in this TMD are defined in the TMD Definitions which supplement this document. Capitalised terms have the meaning given to them in the product's PDS, unless otherwise defined.

The PDS can be viewed on the Fund's website at www.msquaredcapital.com.au and www.oneinvestment.com.au/msquared. Any person may also obtain a paper copy of the PDS by contacting the Manager or Issuer.

DESCRIPTION OF TARGET MARKET

TMD Indicator Key

The Consumer Attributes for which the product is likely to be appropriate have been assessed using a red/amber/green rating methodology with appropriate colour coding:

In target market	See Issuer Instructions (Please see the 'Product description including key attributes' in the table below for Issuer Instructions.)	Not in target market
------------------	--	----------------------

INSTRUCTIONS

In the tables below, Column 1, Consumer Attributes, indicates a description of the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the class of consumers that are considering this product. Column 2, TMD indicator, indicates whether a consumer meeting the attribute in column 1 is likely to be in the target market for this product.

APPROPRIATENESS

The Issuer has assessed the product and formed the view that the product, including its key attributes, is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of consumers in the target market, as the features of this product in Column 3 of the table below are likely to be suitable for consumers with the attributes identified with a green TMD Indicator in Column 2.

INVESTMENT PRODUCTS AND DIVERSIFICATION

A consumer (or class of consumer) may intend to hold a product as part of a diversified portfolio (for example, with an intended product use of minor allocation). In such circumstances, the product should be assessed against the consumer's attributes for the relevant portion of the portfolio, rather than the consumer's portfolio as a whole. For example, a consumer may seek to construct a balanced or moderate diversified portfolio with a minor allocation to growth assets. In this case, a product with a High risk/return profile may be consistent with the consumer's objectives for that minor allocation notwithstanding that the risk/return profile of the consumer as a whole is Medium. In making this assessment, distributors should consider all features of a product (including its key attributes).

The FSC has provided more detailed guidance on how to take this portfolio view for diversification, available on the FSC website.

Consumer's investment objective
Capital Growth	Not in target market	The Fund is a pooled mortgage fund, operating as a unit trust, which seeks to provide investors with the opportunity to invest in a range of loans sourced by the Manager.
Capital Preservation	In target market
Capital Guaranteed	Not in target market
Income Distribution	In target market	The Fund invests (directly or indirectly) in a portfolio of loans secured by first registered mortgages over Australian real estate properties which are diversified by location and property type. Investment into the loans may be made by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) directly making loans to borrowers, either alone or alongside other lenders (Direct Loans); and/or (b) investing in financial products issued by a member of the Msquared Group, the proceeds of which are used to make loans that meet the lending guidelines of the Fund (Loan Products). The Fund is likely to be suitable for investors seeking regular income and capital preservation. The Fund aims to provide investors with a monthly distribution based on the net returns from the Direct Loans, Loan Products and cash. It also aims to preserve capital, and the unit price is expected to remain at $1.00 as the Manager sources and assesses all loans through its credit assessment process to minimise the risks of loss of capital to investors.

Consumer Attributes	TMD Indicator	Product description (including key attributes) and Issuer's Instructions
		However, the Fund is not capital guaranteed and capital losses can occur in circumstances where an asset of the Fund incurs a capital loss. Therefore, the Fund is suitable for investors seeking to preserve their capital but who accept that there is a risk they may lose some or all of their money. As the Fund investments are into debt rather than equity, the investors will not benefit from any increase in capital value of the underlying security property. Investors seeking capital growth are not in the target market.
Consumer's intended product use (% of Investable Assets)
Solution/Standalone (up to 100%)	Not in target market	The Fund's portfolio is diversified by borrower and geography. The security properties can be located anywhere in Australia and suitable property types include residential, commercial, retail or industrial. The Fund has a strong bias towards residential properties and will not accept a loan that is secured by vacant land or development projects. The maximum amount invested in any single Direct Loan, Loan Product or lent to a single borrower will not exceed: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 15% of net asset value (NAV) for the Fund where the NAV is less than $50 million, and 10% of NAV where the NAV is $50 million or more. Therefore the Fund is likely to be considered to have Medium portfolio diversification and investors could use the Fund as a Satellite or Minor allocation to spread the risks of investing in the Fund across a broad portfolio of investments. Investors may also use the Fund as a Core component allocation where an investor has a high conviction to the Fund's strategy and has at least a High risk/return profile.
Major allocation (up to 75%)	Not in target market

Consumer's investment timeframe
Minimum investment timeframe	At least 3 years	Whilst there is no minimum holding period, the recommended investment term is at least 3 years. The Fund is managed with the intention of generating returns over the medium term and is suitable for investors who wish to invest over that timeframe. The maximum term of a loan advanced by the Fund is anticipated to be 36 months but may be longer than this.
Consumer's Risk (ability to bear loss) and Return profile
Low	Not in target market	The Fund's investment objective is to provide investors with the following targeted total returns: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) Ordinary Units: 2.25%-3.75% per annum above the RBA Cash Rate pre taxation and net of fees, costs and expenses. (b) Premium Units: 2.50%-4.00% per annum above the RBA Cash Rate pre taxation and net of fees, costs and expenses. (c) Platinum Units: 2.75%-4.25% per annum above the RBA Cash Rate pre taxation and net of fees, costs and expenses.
Medium	In target market
High	In target market
		The target returns differ due to the fees charged to each unit class. While we consider the Fund to be a conservative investment in respect of private credit funds, it is not without risk and is likely to be suitable for investors who have a Medium to High-risk appetite, seek low volatility and potential losses in order to achieve the target returns and typically prefer defensive assets. While an investment in the Fund is expected to have good prospects of capital preservation and regular income returns, these are not guaranteed and are subject to risks, for example:

Consumer Attributes	TMD Indicator	Product description (including key attributes) and Issuer's Instructions
Very high	See Issuer Instructions (column 3)
Extremely high	See Issuer Instructions (column 3)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> While we believe it is reasonable for investors to anticipate regular monthly income because the Fund is investing in a portfolio of loans, the income distributions are dependent on borrowers' and guarantors' ability to meet interest repayments and repay loans and this is not guaranteed. Despite assessing borrowers' suitability before providing loans and periodically reviewing loans, there is a risk that borrowers may fall behind their loan commitments or default on their loans due to an inability to meet their contractual obligations. If a borrower defaults under a loan, then the Fund may have to enforce its mortgage to recover the loan, any unpaid interest, fees and costs. This may result in delays or suspension of the payment of distributions or the processing of investors' withdrawal requests. The Fund may also be suitable for investors with a Very High or Extremely High return profile where the return profile of the Fund (Medium to High) is an acceptable level of return for the investor.

DEFINITIONS

In some instances, examples have been provided below. These examples are indicative only and not exhaustive.

Term	Definition
Consumer's investment objective

Capital Preservation	The consumer seeks to invest in a product designed or expected to have low volatility and minimise capital loss. The consumer prefers exposure to defensive assets that are generally lower in risk and less volatile than growth investments (this may include cash or fixed income securities). There is no guarantee that capital will not be lost.

Term	Definition
Capital Guaranteed	The consumer seeks a guarantee or protection against capital loss. In certain circumstances the consumer may also seek the potential for capital growth (typically gained through a derivative arrangement) in which case the consumer would likely understand the complexities, conditions and risks that are associated with such products. The TMD will specify if capital growth is also possible, and if derivatives are used.
Income Distribution	The consumer seeks to invest in a product designed or expected to distribute regular and/or tax-effective income. The consumer prefers exposure to income-generating assets (this may include high dividend-yielding equities, fixed income securities and money market instruments).

Investable Assets	Those assets that the investor has available for investment, excluding the residential home.
Portfolio diversification (for completing the key product attribute section of consumer's intended product use)
Note: exposures to cash and cash-like instruments may sit outside the diversification framework below.

Term	Definition
Low	The product provides exposure to a small number of holdings (for example, fewer than 25 securities) or a narrow asset class, sector or geographic market (for example, a single major commodity (e.g. gold) or equities from a single emerging market economy).
Medium	The product provides exposure to a moderate number of holdings (for example, up to 50 securities) in at least one broad asset class, sector or geographic market (for example, Australian fixed income securities or global natural resources).

Consumer's Risk (ability to bear loss) and Return profile

This TMD uses the Standard Risk Measure (SRM) to estimate the likely number of negative annual returns for this product over a 20 year period, using the guidance and methodology outlined in the Standard Risk Measure Guidance Paper For Trustees (note the bands in the SRM guidance differ from the bands used in this TMD). However, SRM is not a complete assessment of risk and potential loss. For example, it does not detail important issues such as the potential size of a negative return (including under conditions of market stress) or that a positive return could still be less than a consumer requires to meet their investment objectives/needs. The SRM methodology may be supplemented by other risk factors. For example, some products may use leverage, derivatives or short selling; may have liquidity or withdrawal limitations; may have underlying investments with valuation risks or risks of capital loss; or otherwise may have a complex structure or increased investment risks, which should be documented together with the SRM to substantiate the product risk rating.

A consumer's desired product return profile would generally take into account the impact of fees, costs and taxes.

Term	Definition
Low	For the relevant part of the consumer's portfolio, the consumer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • has a conservative or low risk appetite, • seeks to minimise volatility and potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear up to 1 negative return over a 20 year period (SRM 1 to 2)), and • is comfortable with a low target return profile. The consumer typically prefers stable, defensive assets (such as cash).
Medium	For the relevant part of the consumer's portfolio, the consumer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • has a moderate or medium risk appetite, • seeks low volatility and potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear up to 4 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 3 to 5)), and • is comfortable with a moderate target return profile. The consumer typically prefers defensive assets (for example, fixed income).
High	For the relevant part of the consumer's portfolio, the consumer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • has a high risk appetite, • can accept high volatility and potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear up to 6 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 5 or 6)), and • seeks high returns (typically over a medium or long timeframe). The consumer typically prefers growth assets (for example, shares and property).

Very high	For the relevant part of the consumer's portfolio, the consumer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • has a very high risk appetite, • can accept very high volatility and potential losses (e.g. has the ability to bear 6 to 7 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 6 or 7)), and • seeks to maximise returns (typically over a medium or long timeframe). The consumer typically prefers high growth assets (such as high conviction portfolios, hedge funds, and alternative investments).
Extremely high	For the relevant part of the consumer's portfolio, the consumer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • has an extremely high risk appetite, • can accept significant volatility and losses, and • seeks to obtain accelerated returns (potentially in a short timeframe). The consumer seeks extremely high risk, speculative or complex products which may have features such as significant use of derivatives, leverage or short positions or may be in emerging or niche asset classes (for example, crypto-assets or collectibles).
Consumer's need to access capital

This consumer attribute addresses the likely period of time between the making of a request for redemption/withdrawal (or access to investment proceeds more generally) and the receipt of proceeds from this request under ordinary circumstances. Issuers should consider both the frequency for accepting the request and the length of time to accept, process and distribute the proceeds of such a request. To the extent that the liquidity of the underlying investments or possible liquidity constraints (e.g. ability to stagger or delay redemptions) could impact this, this is to be taken into consideration in aligning the product to the consumer's need to access capital. Where a product is held on investment platforms, distributors also need to factor in the length of time platforms take to process requests for redemption for underlying investments. Where access to investment proceeds from the product is likely to occur through a secondary market, the liquidity of the market for the product should be considered.

Term	Definition
Distributor Reporting
Significant dealings	Section 994F(6) of the Act requires distributors to notify the issuer if they become aware of a significant dealing in the product that is not consistent with the TMD. Neither the Act nor ASIC defines when a dealing is 'significant' and distributors have discretion to apply its ordinary meaning. The issuer will rely on notifications of significant dealings to monitor and review the product, this TMD, and its distribution strategy, and to meet its own obligation to report significant dealings to ASIC. Dealings outside this TMD may be significant because: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> they represent a material proportion of the overall distribution conduct carried out by the distributor in relation to the product, or they constitute an individual transaction which has resulted in, or will or is likely to result in, significant detriment to the consumer (or class of consumer). In each case, the distributor should have regard to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the nature and risk profile of the product (which may be indicated by the product's risk rating or withdrawal timeframes), the actual or potential harm to a consumer (which may be indicated by the value of the consumer's investment, their intended product use or their ability to bear loss), and the nature and extent of the inconsistency of distribution with the TMD (which may be indicated by the number of red and/or amber ratings attributed to the consumer). Objectively, a distributor may consider a dealing (or group of dealings) outside the TMD to be significant if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> it constitutes more than half of the distributor's total retail product distribution conduct in relation to the product over the quarter, the consumer's intended product use is solution/standalone, the consumer's intended product use is core component or higher and the consumer's risk/return profile is low, or the relevant product has a green rating for consumers seeking extremely high risk/return.
